2025 PINK NIGHT PALOOZA

It has been seventeen years since what began as a small-scale community effort evolved into one of the most dynamic breast cancer fundraisers around. Over the years, not only have members of OUR community been helped, but partnerships have flourished, like the one between Hurley Medical Center and Financial Plus Credit Union. The Hurley Foundation has created a space for businesses, organizations, and people from all walks of life to come together in the name of helping others.

The explosion in attendance numbers each year only goes to show what our organizers have always known—breast cancer touches everyone. Both Hurley and Financial Plus Credit Union are thrilled to host at the Flint Farmers' Market.

Funds help local cancer patients through the lengthy process of testing, treatment and recovery. Now more than ever, your donations and sponsorships will enable us to help more people at Hurley Medical Center and our community. It is important to note, your donation will default to support the Foundation's Breast Cancer Navigator Fund unless you note All Cancers or Cancer Services in your donation. We are intent on serving as many people as we can and greatly value our transparency with you, the donor.

In 2024, Pink Night Palooza helped offset over $75,000 in patient expenses!

Thank you for supporting us as we celebrate life together with friends & family, and thank you for making a difference in our community. In this 17th year of helping local patients, we are overwhelmed with gratitude!

Thank you for your continued support,
Hurley Foundation

EMCEES FOR THE EVENING

Sheriff Chris Swanson

Over the past 30 years, Sheriff Chris Swanson has educated and motivated thousands of people who wanted to change their lives. Chris is a five-time IRONMAN finisher, business owner, author, inspirational speaker, county sheriff, community volunteer, husband and father.

We are honored to have him back with us this evening. Five minutes with Sheriff Chris Swanson and you'll be inspired and challenged to make a positive impact on your world.

Tarnesa Martin, RN

Tarnesa Martin, passionately known as Nurse T, was born and raised in Flint. She is a Registered Nurse, certified life and empowerment coach, speaker, author, and community health advocate dedicated to helping individuals live healthier, stronger, and empowered lives.

She currently holds the position of patient resource and community advocate for Hurley Medical Center which serves as a community liaison for identified health concerns, focusing on community education and resources in an effort to reduce disparities and improve access to care.

She serves on several community boards and is a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., Flint Women's Forum and Junior League of Flint. She has two wonderful adult children and a precious grand-daughter named Gianna.

McKenzie Miller

Hi, I'm McKenzie Miller, and I'm so honored to be back for my second-year co-hosting Pink Night Palooza! I serve as the Director of Corporate Partnerships at Shea Automotive Group, where we're proud to be such an active part of this amazing community.

This event means so much to me — not just because of the incredible impact it has, but because cancer has personally affected my own family. Being part of a night that celebrates strength, hope, and support hits close to home, and I'm grateful to stand alongside so many others who share that passion.

At Shea Automotive Group, giving back is at the heart of what we do, and being involved with Pink Night Palooza is one of the highlights of my year.
